RETAINER/HOURLY RATE

Peking Duck USA, Inc. ("Client") desire to retain the Law Offices of Konstantine Sparagis, P.C. ("the Attorneys"), as legal representation and intend to create an attorney client relationship for the purpose of representing Client in connection with a bankruptcy under Chapter 11.

We are requesting an initial retainer in the amount of Twenty Thousand ($20,000.00) Dollars. Of the retainer payment, $1,738.00 will be used for the filing fee. Any retainer paid in advance by you now or in the future shall be considered earned upon deposit with credit given as the work is performed, subject to bankruptcy court approval as necessary. The Attorneys are not bound to take any action and may not take any action including, but not limited to, filing any appearance or papers or making any court appearances, until the initial retainer is paid in full. All filing fees will be paid out of the initial retainer amount. Either party may terminate the attorney-client relationship at any time, except that the Attorneys must do so consistent with the Rules of Professional Responsibility and in the event of pending litigation, pursuant to such court's rules and orders.

The Attorneys will bill all services (whether by members of the firm, associates, or of counsel attorneys) at hourly rates of three hundred ($350.00) dollars for senior attorneys; one hundred ninety-five ($195.00) dollars for associate attorneys; and seventy-five ($75.00) dollars for non-attorneys. We reserve the right to increase the hourly rate for attorney and non-attorney personnel but we will notify you in advance of any increase. We may consult with specialty attorneys and if so they will be billed to you at their normal rate.

All retainers described herein, including all future retainers, are expressly agreed to be "advance payment retainers" as described in In re: Production Associates, Ltd. 264 B.R. 180 (Bkrtcy. N.D.III 2001) and Dowling v. Chicago Options Associates, Inc., 2007 WL 128879 (III.). The Attorneys will commingle the retainer and any future retainer immediately upon receipt with their general funds being obligated only to refund an amount equal to the unearned portion thereof, if any, promptly after the termination of the Attorney's services. Ordinarily, Client has the option to request that the retainer be considered a "security retainer" where Client continues to have an interest in the funds, but Client recognizes and agrees that the Attorneys would not undertake the representation on that basis. The Attorneys are obligated by the Dowling case to advise Client of the reason they would decline to represent Client on a security retainer basis, and that reason is the Attorneys do not desire even to potentially compete with the creditors of the Client on a security retainer basis.

MONTHLY STATEMENTS/ARREARAGES

All fees are subject to bankruptcy court approval after notice and hearing which you may appear and/or object. You will be invoiced on a monthly basis according to the terms herein, any time spent on your matter will be reflected in your billing. This will include time spent in reviewing any documentation, drafting any correspondence or pleadings, or performing any research to help support any position we will take on your behalf.

It will also include time spent on the telephone with you or with any other persons in connection with the matter you have entrusted to us. The minimum time expenditure billed for any phone call is one tenth of an hour.

Any costs expended on your behalf, such as for filing fees in court, for the services of a private investigator, or other similar costs will be added to your monthly billing to be paid as indicated above. Messenger charges will also be reflected in your bill.

All of the above time entries and costs will be itemized on your billing statement in detail. Please call us if at any time you wish to discuss the billing or have questions or concerns about the method or the amount of billing, or if for any reason you cannot make timely payments. We expect such calls before your invoice is past due.

The Client may object to any charge appearing on any bill rendered by the Attorneys. The Attorneys are always pleased to discuss their charges with the Client, but the Client agrees that any bill not objected to within one month of the date thereof shall constitute an "account stated" and no longer be subject to dispute. The reason for setting this deadline is to keep any objections (and the memories that underlie them for all the Parties) from becoming stale, and to encourage the Client to bring any billing controversies to the Attorneys' attention as soon as possible to foster a speedy resolution thereof. Once a case has been filed any future payments of fees will be subject to the bankruptcy court's approval.

BANKRUPTCY

This fee expressly does not include any obligation on the Attorneys to prosecute or defend any adversary proceedings or appeals ("Additional Services"), which may arise as a result of the Clients' bankruptcy case. Anything herein to the contrary, both the Attorneys and the Client will endeavor to be fair and reasonable with each other in all billing matters.

Section 527 of the Bankruptcy Code requires a debt relief agency to provide an assisted person with the following: A copy of the notice prepared by the clerk of the Bankruptcy Court, in accordance with the requirements of § 342(b), which you have been shown at your initial consultation and which contains a brief description of Chapters 7, 11, 12, and 13 and the general purpose, benefits, and costs of proceeding under each of those chapters; and the types of services available from credit counseling agencies; specifying that a person who knowingly and fraudulently conceals assets or makes a false oath or statement under penalty of perjury in connection with a case under this title shall be subject to fine, imprisonment, or both; and that all information supplied by a debtor in connection with a case under this title is subject to examination by the Attorney General.

All information that the assisted person is required to provide with a petition and thereafter during a case under this title is required to be complete, accurate, and truthful; all assets and all liabilities are required to be completely and accurately disclosed in the documents filed to commence the case, and the replacement value of each asset as defined in § 506 must be stated in those documents where requested after reasonable inquiry to establish such value; current monthly income, the amounts specified in section 707(b)(2), and, in a case under Chapter 13 of this title, disposable income (determined in accordance with § 707(b)(2)) are required to be stated after reasonable inquiry; and information that an assisted person provides during his or her case may be audited pursuant to this title, and failure to provide such information may result in dismissal of the case under this title or other sanction, including a criminal sanction.

If you decide to seek bankruptcy relief, you can represent yourself, you can hire an attorney to represent you, or you can get help in some localities from a bankruptcy petition preparer who is not an attorney. The law requires an attorney or bankruptcy petition preparer to give you a written contract specifying what the attorney or bankruptcy petition preparer will do for you and how much it will cost. Ask to see the contract before you hire anyone. The following information explains what must be done in a routine bankruptcy case to help you evaluate how much service you need. Before filing a bankruptcy case, either you or your attorney should analyze your eligibility for different forms of debt relief available under the Bankruptcy Code and decide which form of relief is most likely to be beneficial for you. Be sure you understand the relief you can obtain and its limitations. To file a bankruptcy case, documents must be prepared correctly and filed with the bankruptcy court. You will have to pay a filing fee to the bankruptcy court. Once your case starts, you must attend the required first meeting of creditors, where you may be questioned by a court official called a "trustee" and by creditors. If you choose to file a Chapter 7 case, you may be asked by a creditor to reaffirm a debt. You may want help deciding whether to do so. A creditor is not permitted to coerce you into reaffirming your debts. If you choose to file a Chapter 13 case, in which you repay your creditors what you can afford over 3 to 5 years, you may also want help preparing your Chapter 13 plan and with the confirmation hearing on your plan, which will be before a bankruptcy judge. If you select another type of relief under the Bankruptcy Code other than Chapter 7 or Chapter 13, you should consult someone familiar with that type of relief. Your bankruptcy case may also involve litigation. You are generally permitted to represent yourself in litigation in bankruptcy court, but only lawyers, not bankruptcy petition preparers, can give you legal advice.

To compile your income refer to recent paystubs accounting for all income. Review your monthly expenditures and make your best estimate on cash expenditures. If you are required to pass a "means test" because of your income, your estimated monthly expenses will be based upon IRS allowances based on the area in which you live. If your expenses exceed the allotted amounts, you may need to make adjustments accordingly. When you value your property, consider the prices for housing in your area, in newspapers for automobiles, and what you would pay for furniture and clothes at stores selling such goods. If you have an item of unique or special value, an appraisal may be necessary. When listing creditors, base their information on current bills. Some of your property is exempt and may be retained according to the exemptions that we have reviewed at your consultation. If a creditor has a lien on exempt property, the lien may be avoidable, or you may have to pay to keep the property.

BINDING EFFECT

By signing below, you indicate that you understand our billing and wish us to undertake your representation on the matters which you have already or will in the future entrust to us. A copy of this agreement should be kept for your records.

CHOICE OF LAW

This Agreement shall be construed according to the laws of the State of Illinois and the Parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of any state or federal court in Cook County.

Yours truly,

/s/ Konstantine Sparagis Konstantine Sparagis
